

Back at the kite Cedric began the very long climb down the kite string. This was a much harder job than the climb up, as he had to carry a terrified Wilhelmina. Suddenly, in the gusty wind the kite broke free from the branches and began to dive and dance wildly about the sky! Cedric hung on. 11

Below, Wilfred had to use all his strength to hold on to the kite. He wanted to land it quickly so that Cedric and Wilhelmina could reach the ground safely, but now it was very difficult to control. As he struggled with the kite, the wind dropped and down came his friends with a bump! 12
