

Whilst Selma and Willa were busy digging tunnels, Wilf was enjoying flying his kite in the strong wind. Nic and Nat were not having a good day, and nor was Cedric. Their boat building wasn't going at all well. The boat looked fine on land, but as soon as it entered the water, it fell to pieces! 25

Just then, Cedric noticed a piece of tree bark. 'Might this work as a boat? We could see if it floats,' he suggested. They pushed it into the pond and it did float! 'There's a hole on the middle letting in water' Nat noticed' 'That's ok', said Nic, 'we can put the stick in there to hold up the sail.' 26